His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers Alliance, hosted this morning, Saturday, 29 November 2025, in his Baghdad office, the Head of Al-Omq Al-Watani Alliance, Mr. Khalid Al-Asadi. The meeting included an exchange of congratulations on the successful outcome of the recent parliamentary elections and the positive signals they delivered—particularly the Iraqi people's continued commitment to the democratic and electoral path and their unity around the national choice.

H.E. emphasized the importance of preserving the current stability and advancing it toward a state of lasting stability. H.E. highlighted the need to uphold the constitutional timelines for forming the government and electing the presidencies, as this reinforces public confidence in constitutional processes and supports the completion of upcoming entitlements.

H.E. further noted the necessity of confronting challenges through realistic approaches and actionable plans that align with the stage's priorities, strengthen institutional capacity to implement development and service programs, meet citizens' expectations, and safeguard national achievements.
