

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem congratulates Islamic Republic of Iran's presidential elections

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, congratulated the Islamic Republic of Iran on the success of the presidential elections. His Eminence tweeted on Saturday, June 19, 2021, "We congratulate the Islamic Republic of Iran's leadership, government, and people for the success of their democratic experiment represented by holding the presidential elections for its thirteenth term." His Eminence added, " We also extend to His Excellency the President-elect, Ebrahim Raisi for his people entrusting him for four years." hoping that "the election results will be an opportunity for a new political era that will contribute to resolving the suspended issues in the region and the world."