

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem calls to intensify intelligence effort after Al-Muqdadiya attack

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, considered the attack on Al-Muqdadiya district as an indication of indolence and reassurance, while terrorist cells are awaiting opportunities to launch their attacks.

His Eminence tweeted on Tuesday, October 26, 2021, "We were struck by the news of numerous martyrs and wounded due to the terrorist attack that targeted Al-Rishad village in Al-Muqdadiya district in Diyala province, these types of attacks indicate indolence and reassurance, while terrorist cells are looking for opportunities to launch their attacks on our people"

His Eminence warned of confusing the security scene in case similar attacks reoccurred, illustrating that these terrorism acts might decimate the stability achievement that was accomplished by our valiant services' efforts and the residents' cooperation.

His Eminence asked our security services to be more alert and cautious and to intensify the intelligence efforts and launch preemptive strikes to prevent the unwanted from happening.
