Sayyid Al-Hakeem warns against security breach repercussions after PMF member attack

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, warned against recent security breach repercussions, calling to double intelligence efforts to secure people's lives. "A few days after the horrific incident in Jabla that broke our hearts, we get devastated by another breach, an armed group invaded the house of a member of the Popular Mobilization Forces in Baghdad leading to him being injured and the martyrdom of a number of his family, among which were children. We condemn this treacherous act that involves the murdering of children in cold blood." His Eminence tweeted. Warning against such unfortunate violations, and calling to double the intelligence efforts to secure the lives of citizens.
