

Sayyid Al-Hakeem congratulates Islamic Republic of Iran leadership & people over revolution victory anniversary

Sayyid Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, congratulated the Islamic Republic of Iran, the leadership and people over the forty-third anniversary of the victory of the Islamic Revolution.

His Eminence said in his tweet on 11 February 2022, “On the forty-third anniversary of the victory of the Islamic Revolution in Iran, we congratulate the Muslim Iranian people and their leadership, wishing the Islamic Republic of Iran more advancement, prosperity, and stability.”

His Eminence considered that the revolution an important turning point in contemporary Islamic history that changed the rules of many of the existing equations at the time and even to our day, indicating that its most prominent characteristic is the leadership of its religious authority represented by its founder, the late Imam Khomeini (May Allah sanctify his soul), and its peacefulness, popularity, and patriotism, adding, “Where it relied in all its details on the Iranian Muslim people. And it adopted the defense of the issues of the Islamic nation, foremost of which is the Palestinian cause.”