

World Environment Day, Sayyid Al-Hakeem calls everyone to unite to reduce climate change effects

Sayyid Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, called to concentrate the efforts of all systems and institutions to reduce the effects of climate change.

His Eminence tweeted on 5/6/2022, "The environmental pollution crisis is now haunting the entire planet for the long- and short-term repercussions, like climate change, dust storms, green spaces shrinking, and desertification."

His Eminence stressed confronting this challenge and on World environmental day, H.E. urged the collaboration of all authorities and institutions to intensify relevant national programs to limit the effects of climate change and work on expanding green spaces and spread environmental awareness for a clean and pure environment.
